Just when Sophia thinks she's got a handle on things going on in the dragon town, her whole world is rocked, quite literally. While Sophia, Gale and Topaz 'get to know' each other more intimately, things at the school they're camping out at have taken a turn for the worse. A group of dragon rebels were supposed to arrive today, but they never did, making everyone worry that they might have been caught by the deserter fae soldiers roaming the area. As Sophia makes it back to the school, she finds out that the parents of Gaia, the little earth dragon orphan, went missing last full moon and it's another full moon tonight... Then more bad news reaches her, another two sets of parents have gone missing... Sophia and her men try everything in their power to find out why earth dragons are going missing, what's happening to them. Why can Gaia still sense her parents when they're not there? And what does a magically locked room at the local library have anything to do with it? This is the fourth novella in the Guarding Their Dragon Mate serial, a six episodes long reverse harem #WhyChoose story. This novella may include any of these elements: steamy scenes, 'I need tissues NOW' moments, cries of 'why, oh, why' and cliffhangers that make you bite your nails (and curse the author). This story takes place in the same world as the Lughnasadh Elite Academy and happens after the events from the other series. Both series can be read stand-alone, they are about different characters, but they are connected.

As the dragon king and leader of the shifter council, Voss has a duty to rebuild the planet after a shifter war destroyed everything. The surrogate program was supposed to be simple. The female volunteers are assigned to the shifter species they want and are not forced to do anything they don't want. When Voss caught the scent of one of the first females to arrive at the spaceport, he and his best friend, Azar, break a few rules to claim their true mate. Right now, we are the Kings of Wyven School for Boys, a school known for the toughest training of rulers and heads of states to be in order to prepare them for the cruel, cruel world we know of, in the kingdoms of Wyvern. On a typical day at Wyvern School for Boys, one student or another gets beaten badly, pranked on so viciously, that they end up seriously injured or close to death. It is the way of Wyvern. It is how kingdoms determine the next heir and successors to thrones. It is a vicious game. One of survival. One of rules. So when they let in Allotrope Free from some nowhere kingdom, we felt affronted. Assaulted with disrespect. First of all, Allotrope is not a boy, but this girl, who is much too pretty and gorgeous to be in a school full of boys. Second, she is the last thing anyone would think could be a ruler or head of state. She is an orphan. Wyvern School for Boys is letting her in as a statement from one of our mothers, who is the ruling Queen of one of of kingdoms. Girls can grow up to become rulers too. Kingdoms are at stake. But it was a Royal Decree, and if I don't obey the Decree, there was a threat of death to me and to all I hold dear, which probably means William and his parents, Bilbo and Kate, the blacksmith and his wife, the alchemist, whom had let me stayed with them since I became an orphan. To keep them safe. To keep me from losing my head, I packed up what little belongings I had and enrolled at Wyvern School for Boys. Everything at Wyvern School for Boys was meant to intimidate. Being the only girl at a school of incredibly handsome boys, especially the Four Princes, was intimidating. Not to mention the cutthroat competition that literally cuts students from the school. I'm stuck in a hard place either get killed by defying the Royal Decree and also get everyone I cared for, killed. Or stick it out at Wyvern School for Boys, despite all the bullying and cutthroat games Wyvern has in store for me. Of course, there is no choice I must survive Wyvern School for Boys, or die trying. Dareena Sellis is a nobody. The orphaned daughter of a no-name farmer, she toils away as a serving girl at Hallowdale Inn, her only marriage prospects either shipping off to war, or pawing at her skirts with their grubby, gnarled hands. But fate takes a strange turn the day a dragon huntress comes to town. Suddenly, Dareena is swept off to Dragon's Keep, trading in her raggedy dresses for silken gowns, her closet-sized room for feather pillows and spacious gardens, and her miserable suitor for three very handsome, very virile dragon princes. For Dareena is not a nobody. She is the Dragon's Gift--the one woman chosen by the gods every century to bear children for the future king of Dragonfell. Despite her pre-ordained path, Dareena's fate is far from certain. The crown has not given birth to more than one son in nearly a thousand years, and the line of succession is far from clear. Neither of the princes are willing to cede Dareena to the other, and yet she must choose. For the enemy is knocking on Dragonfell's door, and Dareena's decision could either mean the kingdom's salvation or annihilation.

Nor was she only a witch. If she could accept both Dalaric and Aegwin into her arms, they would lay claim to her as their Sydae-Va. Their shared mate. After almost two centuries of companionship and hard work to secure the lands, Aegwin was happy with Dalaric as his Sydae-Ra. He was content to remain without a Sydae-Va since neither had found a female worth the Ki from amongst the clans of Akkadians. Though he urged Dalaric to choose another male from a different breed to add to their Sydae so he could finally top given his Sydae-Ra was too stubbornly dominant to allow it, Aegwin was shocked yet pleased when Emersyn rattled his leader's nerves and brought new life to the clan of the white dragons. He watched, waiting for his chance to claim the little Sweetling but only if Dalaric would hurry it along!*
